

BIG TRUST FORMING
TO CORNER FLOURMILLERS OF THE COUNTRY TO UNITE.Arrangements Affecting the Flour
Trade of the United States Are Planned—Enormous Interests Are Involved in the Prospective Deal.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The efforts being made by the leading millers of the country and the chief members of the National Millers' association to bring about an agreement which will provide set rules regulating the output of flour on the market and fixing a minimum price for flour appear to be on the point of reaching a successful issue. Aside from the Northwest, Buffalo holds the key to the situation, and vigorous efforts have, it is said, been made to bring the Buffalo millers into the movement. The leading millers of this city have been interviewed. From their statements it would appear that millers of spring wheat have all along been very anxious for the consummation of the combination, but that the winter wheat millers have until recently held aloof.

To fully understand the movement, it may be said that two months ago at a meeting of leaders of the National Millers' association in Minneapolis, it was suggested that a plan be formulated whereby the brokers and other outsiders could not toy with the flour market as they saw fit, and force the millers to dance to the music, but by which the millers themselves could control the market to an extent sufficient to protect themselves, if nothing more. The men at this meeting were principally spring wheat millers. The spring wheat millers produce about two-thirds of the flour of the country. Their action was rendered doubly necessary by the fact that the markets are at present flooded by an overproduction of about 12,000,000 barrels of flour. After two weeks' more deliberation a plan was worked out and submitted for judgment. This plan proposed for a combination of millers and fix the minimum price at which the output of the mills will be sold.

No miller may go under this price. All may sell above it. To solve the overproduction problem, it was decided to have all mills reduce their production 15 per cent, which would make a difference of almost 4,000,000 barrels a year. All mills failing to reduce their products when notified shall, according to the agreement, pay to the association or combine 10 cents for every barrel of flour in excess of the agreed rate of production. The agreement is to hold for a year and to be renewed thereafter yearly if satisfactory.

There will be no articles of incorporation, and it is alleged that there will be no written agreements, but on the other hand there will be a very plain and visible understanding. The Eastern millers insist on this. Twice before have combinations been formed, both times imperfectly and at the expense of the Eastern men. The market would improve, and according to agreement the Eastern men would wait for the word to unload. The Western men, it is alleged, would "play possum" and the Eastern men would awake to find the market flooded and all their flour unsold. There will be none of that in this instance. Just how it can be avoided without signed agreements is not stated, but the millers themselves say it has all been arranged.

Illinois Grand Lodge of Masons.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—The annual session of the Masonic grand lodge of Illinois will convene in Central Music hall Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The opening address will be delivered by Grand Master Leroy A. Goddard of Chicago. The annual oration will be delivered on Thursday or Friday by General John C. Black. Secretary Dill's report shows that the long aimed-for 50,000 membership has not only been reached, but passed. Last year the number of members was 49,236. This year the number is 52,120, a net gain of 2,884. Three lodges have surrendered their charters during the year, and five new ones are applicants for charters before the grand lodge, leaving the total number to be 713.

FINEST ON THE SEA.

United States Cruiser Brooklyn Queen of the Ocean.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The launch of the new armored cruiser, Brooklyn, at the Cramps' shipyard in Philadelphia next Wednesday, will be quite an event in naval circles. The Brooklyn represents the highest type of the armored cruiser, and our naval officers say that experts the world over look upon the new American cruiser as a marvelous craft. She has been compared to the New York, but is said to surpass the latter in fighting efficiency, steaming radius, coal-carrying capacity and weight of metal discharged from her batteries.

The New York was declared by the experts at the Kiel celebration to be the most superb specimen of the unarmored class of ship afloat. The Brooklyn in general design resembles her and has already been given the title of the "New York's sister ship." But the Brooklyn not only combines all of the valuable features of the New York but adds those of later development. The speed required of her is the same as that of the New York—twenty-one knots for a four hours' run—but the Cramps expect her to beat the record of the New York. Her engines are more powerful and her lines sharper, due to having twenty feet greater length than the New York. Her coal capacity, it is said, would enable her to steam around the Horn to San Francisco without once having to stop for an additional supply. The enormous height of her funnels keeps her furnaces burning at a livelier rate than those of any other ship now in commission and enables her to maintain a high rate of speed without a resort to forced draught.

The Brooklyn looks at a distance very much like the Jean Bart, the great French armored cruiser seen at the New York naval review. When completed she will cost upward of $3,000,000, exclusive of ordnance and armor. The vessel has now been building about three years. She was authorized July 19, 1892, with a limitation on her cost not exceeding $3,500,000. Her dimensions are as follows: Length on load water line, 400.50 feet; extreme beam, 64.35 feet; mean draft, 24 feet; normal displacement, 9,150 tons; indicated horse power, 16,000; speed in knots, 20; total coal capacity, 1,750 tons.

ROLL CALL TAMPERED WITH.

Coming Week Promises a Sensation in the Durrant Case.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—The last has not been heard of the roll-call which was introduced in evidence by the attorney for Theodore Durrant Thursday. The development of the fact in the course of Dr. Gray's testimony that the record for that day was not in reality original, has given the prosecution an opportunity to follow up the matter and possibly show that a deliberate attempt has been made on the part of somebody to shield Durrant. Attorney Duprey has not yet opened his batteries upon the Rev. J. George Gibson, pastor of the Emanuel Baptist church. The attorney for the defense in his opening statement practically asserted Dr. Gibson ought to be at the bar in place of Durrant. He said as soon as he finished with his evidence regarding the chisel found in the pastor's study, the hammer, and the alleged bloody shoe, he will proceed to show that the writing on the copy of the newspaper in which Blanche Lamont's rings were wrapped bears a striking resemblance to the pastor's style of chirography.

Ceded to the United States.

Great Falls, Mont., Sept. 30.—A treaty has been effected with the Piegan Indians by which a strip of land, rich in gold, silver and copper ores, is ceded to the United States. The land is sixty miles long and eighteen wide, running from Birch Creek north to the international boundary. One and a half million dollars is to be paid in ten annual installments of cattle and annuities, beginning in 1898, with the expiration of the present treaty. The commission will go on Monday to Fort Belknap, where they will endeavor to secure a similar cession from the Gros Ventres Indians of a strip of land in the Little Rocky mountains.

For the Presidential Nomination.

New York, Sept. 30.—Senator Richard T. Pettigrew, in an interview, announces the candidacy of Senator Cushman K. Davis of Minnesota for the presidential nomination on the republican ticket. Senator Pettigrew said: "Cushman K. Davis is the choice of the northwest for president. In the nominating convention he will have the solid delegations from his own state, the Dakotas, Montana, Oregon, Washington, and probably a part of the Wisconsin delegation."

Counterfeiter Arrested.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 30.—A gang of counterfeiters, consisting of three men and two women, was arrested here yesterday. The people made spurious dollars and half dollars mostly from old plated silverware. Dies for making the counterfeit were found in Davis' place.

England May Fight Ashantee.

London, Sept. 30.—The Times learns that the war office has summoned the inspector of constabulary on the gold coast of Africa by wire to confer upon the subject of preparation for a military expedition to Ashantee should war with that people prove inevitable.

CHINA THREATENED
BY GREAT BRITAINMUST SUBMIT TO ENGLAND'S DEMANDS.

The Bombardment of Shanghai By British Ships May Occur If the Chinese Emperor Is Obstinate—Crisis in the East Is Approaching At a Rapid Gait.

Shanghai, Sept. 30.—Failing the entire compliance of the central government with the British demands, it is understood that a fleet of fourteen warships will make a demonstration before Nankin on Tuesday or Wednesday next.

The British demand is that within fourteen days an edict must be issued degrading the viceroy of Se-Chuen, or otherwise the British admiral commanding will act.

The wife and family and the treasurer of the viceroy of Nankin have been brought to Shanghai for safety. Rich Chinese merchants are coming here from every side seeking shelter. The British warships, Rainbow, Plover, Spartan, Swift, and Aeolus, are at ports on the Yang-tse-Kiang river. The Carolina, Undaunted, Edgar, Archer and Alacrity are at Woo-Sung. The Daphne and Firebrand are at Shanghai. The British admiral is on board the Edgar.

London, Sept. 30.—The standard says regarding the Chinese situation: "The position of the Chinese government is extremely perilous. It has enough on its hands without a quarrel with England. It is too soon to say that the fall of the Manchu dynasty is imminent, but the news of the spread of the Mohammedan insurrection in the province of Kan-Su is alarming."

"The British demands must be supported by the presence of our fleet in the Yang-tse-Kiang, if not by the occupation of Nankin. We doubt if the Manchu dynasty could survive such a shock. If the Mohammedans of the west find a leader, and if, at the same time the imperial government is rash enough to defy the western powers, a revolution is inevitable."

The Times dwells upon China being a huge and inert mass, whose friendship is not worth cultivating by feeble concessions to her pretensions and pride. "What we want done," the Times continues, "we must insist upon having done, not by futile representations to Peking, but by going to the spot in question and seeing it done ourselves."

IOWA MINERS UNEASY.

Big Strike May Be Ordered at a Meeting To-day.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 30.—The miners of Polk county are holding a delegate convention at Governor's square, in this city, this afternoon, to consider methods of forcing the operators of this district to pay higher rates for mining. They claim that the operators' association, organized last spring, has, as one of its objects, to keep the wages of miners as low as possible, and as another to prevent competition among coal dealers. The result, they say, is that the business will be very profitable this winter, and they propose to force the operators to pay them part of the profits. Every mine in the country will have one or two delegates at the meeting, and several outside counties will also be represented. There is danger that a strike may be ordered.

Rich Find of Gold.

Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 30.—Another rich vein of gold ore was discovered this week on Spring Creek, in the vicinity of the Storm Hill group of mines, which was sold recently to St. Louis parties. The miners engaged in stripping the ground for hydraulic mining on the Bananza bar uncovered a rich ledge of ore fourteen feet in width. That panned out by mortar test is of heavy shot gold. The find is of such value that work on the placer ground will be dropped for the time and the entire time of the miners will be devoted to prospecting for gold ledges. The district where this property lies is twelve miles from Rapid City and the same distance from Keystone.

Threatened Count Its Life.

Yokohama, Sept. 30.—It is now learned that no actual attempt was made upon the life of Marquis Ito, prime minister and president of the Council of Japan, as was at first reported, but a conspiracy has been discovered, the participants in which intended to kill the marquis. On Wednesday night last documents which implicated the man who has been arrested were found.

More British Capital.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 30.—The sale of about 14,000 acres of timber land near Takush harbor, in this province, has just been made to an English company. The land is covered with yellow cypress, and a mill will be erected immediately on the limits. The company has a capital of $400,000.

Harry Wright May Recover.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 20.—Dr. F. W. Bennett, attending physician at Atlantic City, gave out the following on the condition of Harry Wright: "Mr. Wright is still improving and I have hopes of his ultimate recovery."

AT DECATUR, ILL.HOWEVER, HIS COURT HAS NOT YET BEEN OPENED.

Citizens Want the Life of Charles Smith, Who Shot His Daughter. Tried to Kill His Wife and Slew Miss Edna Buchert—Murder Was a Cold Blooded Affair.

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 30.—There was quite a scare at the county jail at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, when the city police reported to Sheriff Nicholson that bodies of men were gathering in an alley and near the Water street crossing of the Wabash road, presumably for the purpose of making an attack on the jail to lynch Charles N. Smith, who Saturday evening shot his little girl, attempted to murder his wife, and killed Miss Edna Buchert. The sheriff increased his force of guards, and loaded all the Winchester rifles he had in stock. They were stacked up in a corner ready for immediate use, and the guards were awake all night. There was no attack made on the jail. The excitement has died out. The grand jury will today take up the case of Smith. If possible a trial will be had at once, and it is generally conceded that the death penalty will be inflicted. A gallows is ready for use in the jail basement. It was used when W. H. Crawford was hanged a few years ago for the murder of Lina Mathias. Smith is badly frightened. He wanted the sheriff to take him away to a safer place. He could not sleep. Yesterday he was so nervous he could not talk to State's Attorney Mills.

Smith on Saturday borrowed a revolver, and told two parties that he intended to kill three people within an hour's time. The little girl is partially paralyzed, but she may recover. Coroner Vendure will hold the inquest to-day on Miss Buchert. In his sermon yesterday Rev. D. F. Howe placed part of the responsibility for the tragedy on the church members, who, he said, had not done their full duty in ridding the city of the liquor traffic, or in bringing sinners to Christ.

A BIG LAWSUIT.

Creditors of Union Pacific Go Into Court.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—The most far-reaching lawsuit ever tried in California, and one which will attract worldwide attention from its economic and commercial bearings, is on the calendar of the United States circuit court of appeals for the present session. It is the struggle of the heavy creditors of the Union Pacific Railway company and its thirty-two branches to have the entire business of the great trunk line thrown into a common pool and administered on as a trust fund by the federal courts. The complainants are in part stockholders and creditors of the company.

The allegations of the voluminous complaint against the receivers of the combined companies is full of startling announcements and vital statements as to the failure of unrestrained private control. The inadequacy of the present management is emphasized and its inevitable trend toward bankruptcy portrayed. The suit involves thirty-two branches of the Union Pacific system, as well as the main line, and the plaintiffs appear as a committee for the minority stockholders of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, as well as for the Farmers' Loan and Trust company and the American Loan and Trust company. Though the capital stock of the Union Pacific company is alleged to be more than $60,000, the plaintiffs aver that its indebtedness is so great and its mismanagement so apparent that its affairs ought to be administered by the federal courts. It is alleged that the government debts alone are sufficient to cause the foreclosure of the franchise. The fact is reiterated with emphasis that the falling off of the road's revenue is alarming, reaching as much as $1,400,000 in two months.

Will Fight Anywhere.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 30.—Bob Fitzsimmons and party arrived here last evening and will go to Corpus Christi tonight, where Fitzsimmons will do his finishing training. In response to a question as to whether or not he would be willing to meet Corbett outside of the state in case the fight cannot be pulled off at Dallas, Fitzsimmons said: "The articles of agreement call for my fight with Corbett to take place at Dallas, and if it cannot be held there I will claim my $2,500 forfeit from the Florida Athletic club. If the forfeit is paid me I don't care where the fight comes off. It can take place in Mexico, Indian Territory or Coney Island. Any place will suit me, just so I can get a chance at Corbett."

Gen. Miles' Appointment Certain.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Secretary Lamone declined to make any statement last night regarding General Miles' prospective appointment to succeed General Schofield as general of the army, but his appointment is generally regarded here as certain. It is thought his commission will issue within a few days and that he will thereupon come to Washington at once.

HELD UP BY TRAMPS

Passengers on a Northern Pacific Train
Robbed and Beaten.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 30.—Particulars of a daring hold-up were brought here early this morning by Conductor Bolton, who arrived at 3 o'clock from the west with a mixed train on the Northern Pacific road. On the train were Frank Richards, John Frieson and Charles Jemark, the victims of the hold-up. All of them were severely injured, and were turned over to Dr. Young for treatment. The work was done by six tramps at the little station of Buffalo, twenty miles from here, and in the darkness they made their escape. Three of the tramps boarded the train at Jamestown, while the others did not make their appearance until the train was nearing Buffalo. While the train was going down a grade they entered the caboose, where the passengers were, and, assisted by their three confederates, made an attack upon Jemark, Richards and Frieson with revolvers and knives. As none of the tramps were in the caboose the trainmen had things all their own way. They ordered the passengers to hand over their money at once. Richards resisted, and was roughly handled by the robbers, who, after beating him over the head and in the face, threw him from the train. Jemark and Frieson gave up what they had without a fight, and were then invited to jump off. As they hesitated about jumping the tramps forced them out on the platform and then pounded them with their guns until they jumped. The conductor learned of the trouble just as the train stopped the robbers jumped off, and are still at large. Richards was found with his collar bone broken, and Frieson and Jemark with their faces badly cut and suffering from internal injuries. The robbers secured from the three men $40 in money and a $50 money order.

NEWS FROM CUBA.

Situation Practically Unchanged—Maceo
Abandons a Strong Position.

London, Sept. 30.—A dispatch to the Times from Havana, dated Sept. 25, says:

"The situation here is practically unaltered. There have been several skirmishes in the last few days in the province of Santa Clara, both sides losing a considerable number of killed and wounded, but neither gaining any substantial advantage."

"A correspondent in Santiago de Cuba writes that the insurgent leader, Jose Maceo, has abandoned his strong position near Guantanamo, and is moving further westward."

"Several men of the crew of the Spanish cruiser Sanchez Barcastegui, who were reported missing after the accident, have since appeared, thus reducing the number of the lost to thirty-one."

"Two small insurgent expeditions are reported to have landed recently on the east coast."

Insurance Trust Charged.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 30.—Several members of the Kentucky and Tennessee board of underwriters have been indicted by the grand jury for conspiracy and for maintaining a trust. The cases will not be called until the January term, 1896. The indictments were found under 5,517 of the code, section 1 of which prohibits the formation of trusts, corners, pools and combinations for the purpose of unduly raising the price of any article of legitimate trade. Section 2 provides that the punishment shall be a fine of not less than $250 and for the second offense of not less than $500. Section 3 provides that contracts made by any such trust, pool, combination, etc., shall be invalid, and section 4 provides that any corporation doing business under the laws of this state which violates this act shall forfeit its franchise.

Indians Ready to Revolt.

Hennessy, O. T., Sept. 30.—A report has reached here that the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians, on the reservation west of here, have become ugly, and are holding war dances and disregarding the agent's orders to keep on the reservation. Runners from Anadarko are in communication with them, and it is said that Kiowas are ready for the war path. The cattlemen in Western Oklahoma are thought to be partly the cause of the trouble, as well as dissatisfaction with the agent, who is very strict.

Jealousy Prompts a Murder.

Washington Courthouse, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Lida Hargrave, of this place, shot and badly wounded Daisy Redman, of Columbus, here late last night. Miss Redman and Miss Hargrave attended a festival. A young man who had been paying attentions to Miss Hargrave started to accompany Miss Redman home. This aroused the jealousy of Miss Hargrave. She procured a revolver, followed the couple, and shot Miss Redman in the shoulder. The girl was arrested at her home.

Western League Incomplete.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The Western league adjourned Saturday after appointing a committee consisting of Johnson, Killilea and Golt to consider the applications of the towns that want to complete the circuit now made up of but six clubs. Grand Rapids, Columbus, Toledo and Omaha are the towns that want to get in. At Saturday's session considerable hostility toward Mr. Brush's combination of the Cincinnati and Indianapolis clubs was shown. At the November meeting there will be some legislation on the subject.

BIG MEDICAL PLANT

SIVE BLAZE.

W. M. Marshall's Medicine Works Burned and the Loss Will Be $12,000—Livery Stable Adjoining Also Wrecked—Elevator at Goodhue, Minn., Laid Low.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Sept. 30.—The W. Marshall medicine factory and the John Kinney livery stables and three adjoining residences were totally destroyed by fire yesterday. Ten horses perished in the flames. The loss will reach $12,000 to $14,000, with insurance of about $2,400.

Goodhue, Minn., Sept. 30.—Sheldon & Co.'s elevator and ten other buildings was burned yesterday. The alarm was given at 12:30, when James Ahrens' building was found ablaze. The flames spread rapidly to Anderson's hotel and store, C. E. Rucker's general merchandise store, Howard & Co.'s drug store, T. B. Sheldon Co.'s elevator, and Pat Kelly's machine and buggy depot. Six cars, one containing merchandise, were burned on the track. An operator wired the Redwing fire department for a special train with fire apparatus, which arrived at 3:30 p. m. Several buildings were saved and the fire quenched by the Redwing department. The total loss is $40,000; insurance, $10,000.

Hostler Burned to Death.

Great Falls, Mont., Sept. 30.—The Eclipse stables, owned by Joseph Hamilton, occupied by H. McIver, were destroyed by fire yesterday. The Cascade hotel, owned by the Interstate Savings and Loan association of Minneapolis, was gutted. Twenty-four horses, including the best drivers in the city, with all carriages and hacks were burned. Hostler Marshall Nevins was roasted to death. The loss is $20,000.

SPANIARDS INVADE AMERICA.

Marines from a Spanish Warship Land in Florida.

Key West, Fla., Sept. 30.—Great excitement and indignation have been occasioned here by a report that marines from the Spanish cruiser Conde de Vanadito have been landed on the Florida Keys north of here to search for filibusters. The Keys belong to Florida, and if Spain has a right to land searching parties on the Keys it also has a right to land marines on the mainland. The insult is considered to be as outrageous as if the Conde de Vanadito had landed a party to search the homes of the citizens of Key West. The state department at Washington will be asked to investigate and demand an apology from Spain forthwith. So much indignation has been aroused here by the report that it is feared the Spanish Consul will be openly insulted.

AFTER A BANK CASHIER.

Mob Threatens to Lynch a Dishonest
Oklahoma Official.

Ferry, Ok., Sept. 30.—A messenger from Pawnee, twenty-five miles east of here, says that Cashier and President Berry of the Farmers' and Citizens' bank of that town is being pursued by a mob of angry depositors and will be lynched if caught. It leaked out that the bank would not open its doors Saturday and that a bill for a receiver was being prepared. The depositors immediately ran attachments on the bank building and assets to the amount of $30,000. C. L. Berry, the cashier and president of the bank, was found and tried to explain the failure to the people, but they would not hear him and had it not been for the officers he would have been mobbed on the spot. Berry left and the crowd became more furious and when the sheriff opened the safe and found only $20 or $30 in cash the mob got beyond the control of the officers and broke for Berry's house. Berry had been notified, however, and made his escape. A number of men, the messenger says, mounted horses and left in pursuit of the bank cashier. If Berry is caught he may be lynched.

TO MEET IN GALVESTON.

Inter-American Deep Waterways Convention Planned.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—The deep water conference, to be held at Topeka, Oct. 2 and 3, will mark an epoch in the commercial history of this country. So sure of success are its promoters that they are already getting ready to hold an inter-American exposition at Galveston, Texas, in 1897, to commemorate the securing of deep water by the general government on the Gulf of Mexico. W. B. Slosson, of Houston, Tex., a leading spirit in the movement, says:

"This new harbor will cheapen freights from the gulf to St. Louis so it will cost but 35 cents a hundred. Our wonderful growth of fruits and vegetables can now be shipped to St. Louis six weeks earlier than the California fruits and vegetables, and as we do not have to either fertilize or irrigate, we grow them a great deal cheaper to begin with."

Children Frozen to Death.

Rawlins, Wyo., Sept. 30.—The two little sons of Frank Nevins, 11 and 13 years of age, who were lost in the recent blizzard while out after the cows, were found yesterday by a party that has searched for several days for them. Their frozen bodies were lying under a sheltering rock a few miles from Nevins' ranch.

MISS WILLARD MAY GET HER OLD HOME

NEW SCHEME PUT ON FOOT IN CHICAGO.

If the Deal Goes Through, Janesville Is Likely to Be the Rallying Ground of All the Temperance Workers of the Country—Build an Old Folks' Home—The Plan.

Miss Frances E. Willard is in a fair way to come into her possession of her childhood's home near the school for the blind in which case it would soon become the rendezvous of all the temperance societies in the country and on it would be established a home for aged temperance workers.

The projectors of the enterprise are the real estate dealers J. H. Curtis & Co., of Chicago together with the W. C. T. U. The plan originated with the real estate firm, which naturally expects to make something handsome out of the deal. The W. C. T. U. expects to make a good thing out of it and has no objections.

MISS FRANCES E. WILLARD.

Negotiations have been pending for some time. Miss Willard at first seriously objected to what might be a plan to get possession of her old home through her influential position. But finally all obstacles have been removed. The farm is in the hands of J. H. Curtis & Co., is being platted and will be on the market soon. It is proposed to utilize the fifty acre tract in the center containing the house and buildings, for a home for old and wearied workers in the temperance cause.

National W. C. T. U. Meetings Here. Possibly also the grounds may be used for the National W. C. T. U. encampment. The projectors, it is understood, hope to sell adjoining lots to the state temperance societies for their encampments. This will make the place the rallying ground for the whole of the temperance forces in this country.

The real estate dealers are to deed the fifty acres over as soon as they have sold 200 lots. That is the understanding.

Miss Irene Fockler, of this city, who is Miss Willard's cousin, is associate manager of the real estate firm. She has an office in the Masonic Temple, where she is every day engaged in looking after a voluminous correspondence and other business in connection with the property.

The place is to be called Willard Heights. As it now exists it comprises 239 acres of ground. The old home is somewhat reconstructed, a large brick residence containing fourteen rooms having recently been added. Miss Willard spent her early years there, from the time she was seven until she was nineteen years of age.

The Final Agreement. In January, 1895, Miss Willard wrote to a friend as follows: "To no one living is the old Willard farm as dear as it must always be to me. And if I thought it right I would set about raising money to make it the property of the W. C. T. U. as a place of rest and retirement for their overworked comrades."

The final agreement signed by the officers of the W. C. T. U. reads:

Whenever we are presented with fifty acres and building thereon of the old "Willard Home," located at Janesville, Wis., free and clear of all incumbrances, we agree to accept the same for the purpose of establishing a national home for deserving members of the union, and for such other uses and purposes of the union as time may show to be advantageous. It is expressly understood and agreed that this property when so decided is not to be used for any other purpose than above indicated, but it is to be devoted solely and for all time by the National W. C. T. U. to the National Home and to the needs and work of the union.

It will be seen by this that the union is to get fifty acres of ground gratis for the influence and prestige which the presence of the W. C. T. U. is supposed to give to the surrounding property.

IOWA FOOT BALL TEAM IN TOWN

Players From the State College Came Up This Way Looking For Scrimps

Twelve stalwart young men with tanned necks and copious hair lined up beside the vestibule last night and gave the Iowa State college yell. They were football players—their hair told that—and were on their way to Madison. Saturday they beat the Northwesterns, beat them shockingly. Today they meet the Wisconsin.

"An Iowa cyclone," one Chicago paper likened them to. They scored 30 points in the first half against the Evanston team and could have scored as many in the last had they chosen. "We haven't much reputation yet," said Half Back Briggs, "but we have a chance to get one this year. We play five state universities, besides several others."

"Corn seems to be nourishing diet," suggested the reporter, looking to see if anybody on the team was less than six feet high.

"It's great stuff. Five of us weigh close around two hundred pounds apiece and were still growing."

"Not growing very wise, though, are you? This tour must break in on your college work."

"It does a little, but we try to keep up with our classes as well as possible."

"Any objection made by the college authorities to your going?"

"No, they rather help us along. Perhaps the advertising we do accounts for that."

"Are any of the western teams playing under amended rules this year?"

"None, so far as we can learn. Down east crowding prior to the snap back has been stopped, you know, and momentum plays as openings discouraged. Here in the west we play the same game we did last year."

ROCK COUNTY'S KEELEY PATIENTS

Fourteen Men Have Taken the Treatment So Far.

George P. Mathes, the Milwaukee correspondent of the Chicago Times-Herald, has this to say of the new "Keeley cure law": "The law passed by the last legislature in this state for the treatment of habitual drunkards at public expense has been put in effect in only twenty-four out of the seventy counties of the state. In these counties 137 drunkards have been given the Keeley cure at the expense of the taxpayers, at a cost of $17,030. Eau Claire county leads with twenty patients, who cost the county $3,370. Rock comes next with fourteen, Fond du Lac has thirteen, several counties have sent eleven or twelve patients to the institution, and from this down to one. The opinions gathered from the different counties which have taken an advantage of it as to the operations of the law are in the main favorable, it being stated that the persons sent to the institution have returned respectable citizens. In some counties there is a decided opposition, both on account of the expense and the failure of any benefit to those sent to take treatment. On the whole, however, it seems that where tried, the law has proved a benefit to the community."

BLACK SOLDIERS WELL TREATED

Private Geo. Root Says Atlanta Folks Used Him Very Politely.

Private Geo. Root—black as the raven of spades and weary from two nights of riding—climbed down from the vestibule last night to stretch his legs. "Dis Janesville?" he inquired politely. "Good long way from Montana yet." Root is from the Fifth infantry and was part of the special detail sent to the Atlanta exposition. Colored soldiers haven't been seen in Atlanta since Sherman happened along. That was some years ago and many people who visited the fair found the ebullient infantry as much of a curiosity as anything on the grounds. The change in the southern sentiment during the last few years was made manifest by the fact that not an objectionable comment regarding the negro soldiers was heard.

STAFF OF PHYSICIANS AND THEIR SPECIALTIES.

Booklet Just Issued Tells About the Institution and What It Hopes to Accomplish—Chicago Physicians and Surgeons Who Are Visiting Associates.

A very neat little booklet descriptive of the Palmer Memorial Hospital has just been issued. On the title page is an excellent portrait of the late Dr. Henry Palmer, while an excellent picture of the hospital adorns another page. A group picture of the staff, Drs. Joe B. Whiting, J. G. Located on a bluff ninety feet above Rock River, it affords a magnificent view of the city and the surrounding country.

Tells About Janesville.

"Janesville is the county seat of Rock county, situated in the valley of Rock river, the largest city of Southern Wisconsin, having a population of about 15,000. It is a thriving manufacturing city, ninety-one miles from Chicago, and seventy-one miles from Milwaukee. The State School for the Blind is located here. The Y. M. C. A. has just completed a fine edifice, costing $25,000. A new high school building has just been erected at a cost of $60,000. The city has electric lights and an electric street railway and a fine system of water works."

It further states that patients suffering from severe accident, or illness, may be admitted to the hospital at any hour of the day or night. Application must be made to one of the attending physicians. Patients suffering from contagious diseases are not admitted. Board must be paid in advance. Visitors are admitted from 2 to 4 p. m. on week days and at no other time without special permission.

Sargent D. J. Brady, who was sent here from Fort Sheridan to enlist recruits for Uncle Sam's army, says that Janesville is a little slow in furnishing the right kind of men. He has been in Janesville about seven weeks, but during that time he has enlisted but five men. He expects to be ordered back to Fort Sheridan at any time.

TWO DOZEN ENGINES FINEST EVER MADE

TWENTY-FOUR NEW LOCOMOTIVES FOR THE C. & N. W.

Three Will Run Out of Janesville and Engineers Moran, Walsh and Brazzell Will be at the Lever—New Machines Far Ahead of New York Central's 999.

Twenty-four of the finest passenger engines in the world have been ordered by the Chicago & Northwestern. The "vestibule" is one of the trains to be equipped with them. Other trains are the flyer on the Milwaukee division and the Council Bluffs express. Further than this the plans are not known.

"As much better than the New York Central's 999 as the 999 is better than an ordinary," is what Master Mechanic Heath says of the new engine.

He has seen them tried. Two of them—901 and 908—began pulling the Council Bluffs limited three weeks ago. Their work was so satisfactory that the order for twenty-four just like them was placed at once.

The engines are the finest and most powerful the Schenectady Locomotive works ever turned out. Seventy miles an hour is an easy feat for them. They are not remarkable in appearance except from the height of their drive wheels and tremendous boilers. They are four-driver engines but will handle a heavier train under the conditions of passenger service than will the ponderous six-driver "hogs" now in use on the limited.

"Hogs" To Haul Freight.

When the new engines are ready the "hogs" will be put back on freight work, for which they were built. The special engines built for the "World's Fair" express are now running on the Milwaukee division will be brought over to the Wisconsin division and put on the Green Bay run.

Some of the fastest engines in the world will run out of Janesville when the change is made. Engineers Brazzell, Moran and Walsh will get one of the "nine hundred's" as the vestibule is their train. Who will run the express engines over from Milwaukee is unknown.

When the Chicago & Northwestern "accommodation" rolled into Janesville this morning, the car reminded the people on the platform of the Chicago "L" road. Each car platform was protected by gates that worked the same way as on the elevated road. These gates were put on with the idea of compelling all the passengers to get on the front end of the car so that the conductor could look at their tickets before they got aboard, in compliance with the rule made some time ago. The car was sent out from Chicago on Saturday night, and came down from Watertown this morning. Whether or not all the company's cars will also be fitted up in that manner, is not known.

The Taber Repertoire

The tour of Julia Mariow Taber and Robert Taber began September 2d at Milwaukee. Some changes have been made in their repertoire since that season. They have added "Henry IV" which has been regarded as one of the best acting and most popular plays in Shakesperian works. It is a brilliantly tragic comedy that sparkles with Falstaffian humor. A variety of special scenery, costumes, and armorial bearings, involving careful study and great expense have been prepared for this play, which will be presented with historical accuracy. The other plays in the repertoire are "As You Like It," "Twelfth Night," and "Romeo and Juliet." Mr. and Mrs. Taber will appear at the Opera House in "Romeo and Juliet" on Oct. 2.

NO SECRET IN THIS WOMAN'S CASE.

Mrs. Campbell Wishes Her Letter Published so that the Truth May Be Known.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS]

Of the thousands of letters received from women all over the world by Mrs. Pinkham, not one is given to the public unless by the wish of the writer. Thus absolute confidence is established between Mrs. Pinkham and her army of patients; and she freely solicits a letter from any woman, rich or poor, who is in ill health or ailing.

In the case of Mary E. Campbell, of Albion, Noble Co., Ind., her suffering was so severe, her relief so suddenly realized, and her gratitude so great, that she wishes the circumstances published, in the hope that others may be benefited thereby. She says:—

"My physician told me I had dropsy and falling of the womb. My stomach and bowels were so bloated I could not get a full breath. My face and hands were bloated badly. I had that dreadful bearing-down pain, backache, palpitation of the heart, and nervousness.

"One of my physicians told me I had something growing in my stomach; and the medicine that I took gave me relief only for a short time. I thought I must die. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it worked like a charm. After taking the first bottle I could walk across the street, now I am well. I advise all my friends to take it."

O MOON!

O mellow moonlight warm,
Weave round my love a charm.
O countless starry eyes,
Watch from the holy skies.
O ever solemn night,
Shield her within thy might.
Watch her, my little one!
Shield her, my darling!

How my heart shrinks with fear,
Nighly to leave thee, dear,
Lonely and pure within
Vast glooms of woe and sin.
Our wealth of love and bliss
Too heavenly perfect is.
Good night, my little one!
God keep thee, darling!

A TASTE OF BLOOD.

It was in the Boer war of 1879. I was sent with a dispatch from Newcastle, on the Natal border, to Standerton, and had to ride through a country occupied by the enemy. We knew from experience that the Boers had parties out on all the roads to intercept messengers, but as I was pretty well acquainted with those parts and had a good horse I hoped to slip through, without being noticed, by a cross country route. I had got over more than half my journey when, just about dusk, I saw a solitary Boer riding in the distance. He disappeared almost immediately in a fold in the ground, and so, hoping that he had not in that brief moment discovered me, I stood where I was, behind a clump of rocks.

My horse and I were both in need of rest, so as darkness came on I moved down into a grass grown donga below the rocks, where the horse could graze and whence I could see any one approaching by his being defined against the sky line. I had had the misfortune during the day to lose one of my saddlebags, thanks to a rotten strap, and found myself in consequence without food and without any more ammunition than the cartridge in my carbine and two spare ones in my pocket, and so, for more reasons than one, I looked forward to getting soon to my journey's end.

As the moon rose behind the rocks I began to think of starting on my way again, when suddenly my nerves were put on the qui vive by my horse chucking up his head and staring forward for a few moments with pricked ears. Then, without having stopped chewing, he dropped his muzzle back into the dewy grass and went on grazing as though dewy grass bore no such thing as "horse sickness." Following the direction of his stare I fancied I saw something moving in the shadow of the rocks, and a few seconds later the figure of a man loomed up clear and black against the moonlit sky, moving along the top of the "kopje" in a stealthy, stooping position. Hat, beard and rifle proclaimed him to be a Boer. Time, locality and posture told that he was searching for me. Mechanically I brought my carbine to the "ready." As I did so he stopped and slowly sank behind a stone. Either a glint of my weapon or a sound from my horse had caught his attention. I was in the deep shadow of an overhanging rock, and my horse was behind me, effectually concealed by a projecting corner of the bank. I never took my eye off the spot where the enemy had disappeared. The minutes dragged by like hours as I watched without seeing a sign.

Could he have slipped away from there altogether and perhaps be creeping down behind me somewhere? I dared not take my gaze off the place for a single moment, and the tension of waiting gradually became almost unbearable. My heart was thumping away all the while with suppressed excitement, almost drowning the only other sound audible in the surrounding dead stillness, the sound of my horse contentedly cropping the herbage. At last a movement by the stone I was watching, and I saw his head rise slowly and quietly per about. It seemed almost like a bad dream to watch this specter so noiselessly exerting all his craft to find me in order to take my life.

How steadily he stared into my donga with his head only just above the stones! But he could not see me, his eyes could not pierce the darkness of my hiding place.

Seeing nothing, he gradually raised himself to gain a more extended view or to look into the ground more immediately under his position, and now I saw his head, shoulders and body clearly silhouetted against the sky, almost under the moon. Quickly I raised my carbine to my shoulder. The barrel shone like a bar of silver as I pointed it for his head. Slowly and steadily I lowered the fore end till the bar was diminished into a single spark shining against the lower part of the black figure. He never moved, and all the while my brain kept repeating those lines of Gordon's:

How strange that a man should miss
When his life depends on his aim!
How strange that a man should miss
When his life—

At the right moment hand and eye worked mechanically in unison, and through the roar and red blaze that followed I had a momentary vision of two hands thrown up against the sky and then blank darkness. My horse, startled by the report, first claimed my attention, and then, as I slipped in one of my two remaining cartridges, I wondered what next should be done.

Was the man dead or shamming? Had he friends near who would be attracted by the report? Should I stay where I was or make a bolt? I finally decided to wait a few minutes and watch.

Not a sound. Nothing moved. So carefully and quietly I crept up the donga, and by a detour made my way to the back of the pile of rocks. A movement in their shadow caused me to drop flat among the stones, till I saw that it was only the Boer's horse quietly grazing out into the moonlight. So the man was still there, but was he alive and waiting, or was he dead and safe? Cautiously I crept nearer and nearer, with my carbine ready. Still no sign. At last I see something. Is it a branch or a crevice? It is a rifle, and its shadow lying across the rocks. Enough! Even if alive he is in my power now. I walk boldly forward. There, near the rifle, down among the stones, is a huddled heap. It is the first man I have ever shot. I don't quite know what to do. I push him with my foot. No response. He is dead. How strange it seems! A few minutes ago this dead bundle was as full of life as I. Every muscle and nerve, every sensation in fullest working order, and now but one little act of mine, and the whole is thus collapsed.

Only now the moon was looking down on two human beings approaching each other over the wide veldt. A moment later she looks sadly down on one standing beside the crumpled remains of the other.

The two horses are still grazing peacefully on opposite sides of the rocks.

I turned myself from my musings and took up the dead man's rifle. It was a Martini-Henry. After appropriating its cartridge, I knocked out the block axis pin and threw the block away, so that it might no longer be of use to an enemy. And then I thought to replenish my own ammunition from the enemy's store and turned again to the corpse.

I felt a reluctance to touch the poor limp thing, but his haversack was partly underneath him and had to be got out. That done, I drew the cold hands down to the sides and straightened out the legs, but could not go so far as to turn the body on its back—I feared to see the face. In the haversack I found besides the cartridges a Bible and some rusk and "biltong" (sun dried meat). The cravings of hunger were reawakened by the sight of food and I was soon munching away at my newly acquired supply, while I still stood in a kind of fascination over the body of my victim.

How strange to be eating the food prepared for one who had no need for it! To be tasting the flavor, which somehow I did not altogether like, that possibly he would have been tasting now had not all power of taste suddenly gone out of him forever! Then his Bible lying there reminded me that we were both practically of the same belief. Two Christians, whose religion told them to love one another, meeting in the midst of a heathen land—strangers to each other on earth, but brothers in spirit. We meet—to greet each other with peace and goodwill? No, but without even a word of anger one to kill the other.

And a great remorse comes over me. What right had I to take his life? By killing him, in what torrent of grief and ruin may I not have involved a wife and bairns? Did I not live before there was need for it? In vain I tell myself that had I not killed him he would have gathered me.

All feeling of animosity is drowned in that of pity. At any rate if his comrades find him they shall know that we "Rooi-batches" bear no grudge, but have some good feeling in us. May it help to dispose them more peaceably toward us!

So, after a very short meal, I stow the ammunition and the remainder of the food into my pocket. Then I drag the body from where it lies, leaving only a black, shining blotch among the stones, into a shallow cleft between the rocks. Here I turn it on to its back and see the pale, dead face, the paler for the contrast with its black beard in the clear moonlight. I close the glassy, staring eyes and compose the limbs in their narrow bed, and then, with large boulders, I overbridge the grave and fill up every crevice well with stones. Little now is left to do. On the highest rock, just above the grave, I build a cairn of stones, in which I firmly plant the rifle upright. I take his Bible, which has writing in its cover that may tell his name, and fasten it, inside his hat, to the muzzle of the rifle, and to the cleaning rod I tie my handkerchief, to serve at once as a scare to beasts and an attracting sign to men. And then I turn and leave the spot.

I reached Standerton all safely with my two horses soon after daybreak and delivered my dispatches. When I emptied my pockets, daylight showed me that what was left of the biltong and rusk was all besmeared with blood.—Sketch.

Wood Pulp Hollowware.

Wood pulp hollowware is made in molds of any desired shape readily opened and the moisture is driven out by compressed air through fine netting, the mesh holding the pulp, but permitting the water to escape. After the pulp is shaped, either into inclosed hollowware or other decorative articles, it is treated chemically so as to harden and toughen the pulp. By a special treatment it is given the appearance of china, having also the valuable properties of resisting acids, oils, etc., which makes it adapted to oil cans, pickle packages and similar articles. The glazed hollowware is intended to take the place of glass or tin for canned goods and for vases, jardinières and other ornamental articles in imitation of earthenware, pottery and china. Such articles made of wood pulp will not chip or crack. They can be dropped with impunity and will stand considerable more usage than articles of other materials. The numerous applications of wood pulp, many of which have been mentioned in these columns, point to the extended use of that material.—Stoves and Hardware Reporter.

Careful of Souvenirs.

The Belgians are careful of their historic souvenirs. In the front of a house situated in the Faubourg de Schaerbuch, in Brussels, there is to be seen half buried in the plaster a cannon ball which was fired from a Dutch cannon at the period of the revolution of 1830 and has ever since been permitted to remain. Recently it was determined to restore and refront the house, and it was decided to make the repairs without disturbing the cannon ball.

To Attract the Bees.

If you want the bees to visit your garden, and if you know anything of plant life you are aware that they are a necessity, invite them by having plants which bear blue blossoms. Sir John Lubbock says they manifest a decided preference for that color.

Did You Ever Fall Over a Precipice,

Or hold up the Washington Monument on the pit of your stomach—in a dream? Did you ever wake up in a cold sweat caused by some horrible phantasy? If so, the wisest thing that you could have done to renew your slumber undisturbed by the nightmare, would have been to take some Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which would have tranquilized you and relieved the indigestion, which was, perhaps, the author of your hideous dream. In somnia, nightmare, indigestion are easily remedied by the Bitters. Resort to it, also, if you are troubled with chills and fever, liver or kidney trouble, constipation, neuralgia or rheumatism. If you have lost your appetite don't go to the expense of advertising for it, but take the Bitters. They will "good digestion wait on appetite and health on both." Just before retiring is a very suitable time to swallow a wineglassful.

FRANK S. BAINES, Mayor.

There Was No Danger.

It was midnight. Massive clouds obscured the moon and stars, and the silent, deserted streets of New York city presented a dismal appearance as the occasional gas jets flickered in the gloom. Two bold burglars had entered the Bank of Good Hope and were ransacking its vaults, when they suddenly ceased.

"Hush!" said one. "I hear footsteps on the street; wait here till I get a peep."

He crept to a shaded window and peered into the darkness. He saw two figures approach; but as soon as he could discern who they were he stepped back briskly and whispered:

"We're safe, Bill; 'tis no one but the police."

It Covered the Ground.

"The late editor's wife is something of a humorist."

"Indeed?"

"Yes; took a line from his original salutory and placed it on his tombstone."

"What was it?"

"We are here to stay."—Atlanta Constitution.

MONEY COMING THIS WAY.

Money is flowing west as the crops move east. In most of the great industries there has been a growth in activity in the past month which has brought the output up to the line touched in 1891 and 1892, which represent the mean of recent normal years. The grain and fruit crops are now out of danger, and the prediction of larger yields in the aggregate than were ever known in the past have been vindicated by the result. Iron production is still increasing, but some of the trade papers think the advance in prices which has taken place has gone too far. Its tendency is to increase importation and at the same time to add to the productive facilities of the country more than the normal demand will warrant. Railroad earnings continue to make a favorable showing, bank clearances keep largely in excess of those of a year ago, and business failures decline in number and extent of liabilities, although the situation is fairly favorable.

HILL IN THE BACKGROUND.

Had Hill not been snowed under last fall democrats would not be talking about a "good western man" for president. His would be the only name mentioned. As it is nobody mentions him or thinks of him in that connection. Still, the next three or four years may make another change in his prospects. He will probably be retired from the senate at the end of the term, a year and a half hence and may find, as other presidential aspirants did, that nominations can be worked far better in private life than in public station.

COURTS MADE A MOCKERY.

What interest has Chicago's state's attorney in the water thefts? Why does he want the grand jury to keep hands off? Just as an investigation of the stock yards steal is begun he hands in a list of forty petty jail cases for "immediate action." It is by just such devices the legal machinery of Chicago has been made the ringster's ally and poor man's curse. State's Attorney Kern should be made to explain.

All the states are paying more attention to the preservation of wild animals. No non-resident is permitted to shoot deer in Michigan without paying a license fee of $25 and citizens must pay 50 cents for the privilege. The days of the unregulated pothunter are numbered.

Even democrats criticize the administration for its attitude on the Monroe doctrine. Vigorous assertion of the right and duty of this country to resist European invasion or infringement of that doctrine expresses the view of all patriotic citizens, north and south.

Day by day the democratic tariff goes on increasing imports without raising revenue and giving foreigners the advantage of our markets, without getting anything in return. No wonder the balance of trade is against us and gold shipments necessary.

Spain should be careful what she says about the neutrality of the United States. Were it for for the peace work done by our navy Cuba would have been free long ago.

Mr. Cleveland will retire with the reputation of having created the largest supplies of blunders and the greatest shortage of cash this country has seen since 1850.

New York democrats are adding local tickets, state tickets and general tickets. Their splits will do the cause of reform substantial, though unwilling service.

Great Run.

On stoves of all kind both new and second hand we are having. This cold snap makes the necessity of looking into heating apparatus imperative. We have stoves of every description. Don't miss us, we make the price right. Lowell Hardware Co.

University Association to Meet.

The University Association which was recently organized in this city will hold its first regular meeting in the chapel of the Congregational church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. By order of Rev. V. E. SOUTHWORTH, Pres. MISS LOUISE CARPENTER, Secy.

The More Odd the Better.

It's seldom a clothing man delights in seeing an odd shaped man enter his store; as a usual thing it's impossible to fit the odd shaped men, that is, give a perfect fit. With the Pickwick system of clothing we can fit the odd shaped man just as easily as the ordinary form, and we are perhaps more glad to see the hard-to-fit form man enter the store than others, for the reason that we can talk good clothing and perfect fitting garments confidently to him. T. J. Zeigler.

We Still Talk

About Marzluft shoes; they furnish much room for consideration. Those that are made up with the material and workmanship that these goods contain, deserve much praise and win the high place on the shoe market without much effort. We save you money on Marzluft shoes. All the latest toes and styles. Lowell's Annex.

We Make It Easy.

Odd shaped men as a usual thing, after making one or two attempts at securing a ready made garment to fit, give it up and go to the tailor. We can save the extra amount you pay a tailor and also the bother of waiting for the suit, with our Pickwick clothing. It's made to fit and wear and it never goes back on the makers intentions. T. J. Zeigler.

We Have Added.

A line of cuspadons that are pretty and cheap. We give you them for 9, 15 or 40 cents. The 9 and 15 cent ones are earthenware and are well made, the 40 cent kind are of porcelain and very prettily decorated. Lowell's Annex.

Just As Good As You Want.

Is our underwear. We bought the stock cheap but that doesn't cut any figure with the quality, even if it does with the selling price. If you must have underwear don't miss seeing us. Lowell's Annex.

For the Floor.

We are adding a line of pretty rugs to our store. Have a few of them in now and expect more soon. Can sell you a good rug for amazingly little money. Lowell's Annex.

Our Supply

Of facilities for school is good. We can give the children any kind of a school room need for very little money; send them in; we will take care of the youngsters. Lowell's Annex.

PREVENTION OF DISEASE.

Keep the Stomach Right.

It is surprising what a safeguard a healthy stomach is against disease. And again it is not surprising when it is remembered that the only way we get pure food, strong nerves and firm flesh is from wholesome food, well digested. It is the half digested food that causes the mischief. When the stomach is weak, slow, inactive the food lies in the stomach for hours, fermenting, forming gases which poison the blood and the whole system, causing headache, pains in the back, shoulders blades and chest, loss of appetite, palpitation, biliousness.

The safest cure for indigestion is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of vegetable essence, fruit salts, pure pepsin and Golden Seal. Dissolve one or two of these tablets in the mouth after each meal. They are pleasant tasting and mingling with the food so assist the weak stomach that the food is perfectly digested before it has time to ferment.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion and increase flesh because they digest flesh forming foods like meat, eggs, etc.

Sold by druggists at 50 Cents per package. Absolutely safe and harmless.

ECZEMA

From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never yet known a failure to cure. GEO. W. IRWIN, Irwin, Pa. N. P. BUMP IS DEAD AT A RIPE OLD AGE

ANOTHER COUNTY PIONEER IS CALLED HOME.

Mr. Bump Was Born In New York State Eighty-Five Years Ago and Was Widely and Favorably Known In Rock County—Sketch of His Career—Other Deaths.

Nelson P. Bump, one of Rock county's pioneers, died at his home Number 7 Madison avenue Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock, his death being the result of a chill which he was taken with last Wednesday, which developed into bronchitis.

Mr. Bump was born in Pompey, Onondaga county, N. Y., April 14, 1810. Of a family of eleven children, only two are now left, they being Hiram Bump of this city and Mrs. Nellie Blood of New York.

On attaining his majority Mr. Bump went to Buffalo, N. Y. and became clerk in the Mansion House. Arriving in Racine in 1842 he had charge of the Congress Hotel and came to Janesville in 1846 where he was connected with the old "Stage House" on the present site of the Myers house. After four years he turned his attention to agricultural pursuits and has owned several fine farms on the Magnolia road and in Union.

Mr. Bump was united in marriage to Miss Mary A. Thomas, of Utica, N. Y., at Exeter, January 8, 1846. Mrs. Bump died last December. To them had been born a family of eight children, of whom four are now living. Franklin P., resides at Bridgeport, Conn.; Louis C., who has been at home all summer with his father; also, Fayette and Minnie.

Rapidly are the old settlers disappearing, and soon the last of those who laid the foundation for this great county will have passed away. Not only as a friend and companion but as a worthy citizen, was Mr. Bump held in high regard. The funeral will be held from the house Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Flint.

M. M. Flint's portion of sorrow is just now larger than the average person is called upon to bear. Four weeks ago Mrs. Flint was summoned to the home beyond, while death last night claimed his little child at the tender age of five weeks. The remains will be shipped to Cookville for interment tomorrow and in his bereavement Mr. Flint has the tender sympathy of all.

Funeral of Mrs. Walsh.

The funeral of Mrs. Morris Walsh was held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon from St. Patrick's church, Dean McGinnity officiating. There was a large attendance and the interment was made in Mount Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were Morris Stacks, Richard Nash, Michael Furey, John Callahan, L. Cronin and Martin Costello.

OTHER DEATHS IN THE COUNTY.

EBER HOFF of Beloit aged three years.

W. J. RISHER of Beloit twenty seven years.

SETTLE THE STRIKE BY ARBITRATION

UNION AND F. M. MARZLUFF TO FIX THEIR DIFFERENCES

Each Side Chose Two Men Who In Turn Selected the Fifth Member of the Commission and They Will Meet Tonight—The Cause of the Trouble.

Five Janesville men will decide tonight whether or not George Plowright shall return to work in the shoe factory of F. M. Marzluff & Company. Mr. Marzluff suggested that the matter be left to arbitration this afternoon, and named Victor P. Richardson and Ex-Mayor John Thoroughgood as his representatives. The unions chose George G. Paris and Joseph Beckman. These four men met this afternoon and selected E. C. Johnson as the fifth member of the commission. They will meet at the Park Hotel tonight and on their report, the difficulty between the shoe company and the striking employees will be settled.

The trouble occurred on Saturday afternoon, and all the union employees left in a body. Mr. Marzluff had been absent for the past two weeks, and while he was gone, his partner, Frederick Rau, Jr., decided to make some shoes on a new last, but the men refused to work on them, but would not give their reason. Mr. Rau then told them that there was no other work to be done and that they would have to lay off. When Mr. Marzluff got home Saturday he told Mr. Rau to tell the foreman that there would be no work today, which Mr. Rau did. George Plowright was one of the foremen, and when Mr. Rau delivered Mr. Marzluff's message, Plowright said he didn't care if they never went to work. Mr. Rau then inquired of him if he meant to quit, and Mr. Plowright said he would just as leave quit now as at any time, but that if he left, all the help would go with him.

Went and Got His Wages.

Plowright then went to the office and got his wages, the five hands who were employed in the stock room going with him. The dispute about the new last was settled in ten minutes when they came to talk the matter over, but the men would not return to work unless Plowright was reinstated. Mr. Marzluff said Plowright could not work for him after the way he had talked, and there the matter stood. Then a general strike was ordered and all the union men quit.

"There was no difference about wages at all" said Mr. Marzluff this morning, "the whole trouble hangs on whether or not Plowright shall be reinstated."

Mr. Marzluff also says that he told Plowright the last time he quit work that the next time he left it would be for good. Plowright having resigned his position a number of times before.

TRINWITH CANNOT BE FOUND

Officers and Asylum Keepers Fail to Locate the Crazy Man.

Thomas Trinwith did not go back to Mendota today but is now a wanderer on the face of the earth, while the officers search for him in vain. After he and the family had stood off the two asylum attendants John Monahan and T. Sullivan and the two Milton Junction constables, Westley Stockman and Phil Osborn, the attendants came to Janesville and swore out a warrant in the municipal court charging Trinwith with using abusive language and making threats. The warrant was put in Sheriff Appleby's hands, and he was going after the insane man today. In the mean time, however, Trinwith had evidently made up his mind that he would get the worst of the trouble sooner or later, and putting on his best clothes Saturday afternoon, he struck out across lots. Where he went no one knows, so the asylum officers returned to Madison empty handed. It is said the family only rallied to "Tom" defence after he had threatened to burn the house if they did not.

FARMERS IN COURT TO TELL OF A BLOW

THOS. JAMESON HAS JAMES BROWN ARRESTED.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown Separated Last Spring and Stories Said to Have Been Told Since Then Discussed With Too Much Flourishing of Fists.

A reconciled couple, a taunt, a blow—these all figured in the assault and battery case before Judge Phelps this afternoon.

Thomas N. Jameson was the complainant.

James Brown was defendant.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown separated last spring, and Mrs. Brown went to work at Jameson's. Brown wanted her to come back.

"If you would not give her work, she would come back to me," he told Jameson.

Jameson refused to send her away, but finally Mr. and Mrs. Brown came to an understanding, and were reunited. Then, it is alleged, Mrs. Brown confided to her husband that Jameson had told stories about him.

There was a dispute about Mrs. Brown's pay, and she and her husband went to the Jameson place to settle it. But far from settling it they left it more mixed than ever. The talk grew hotter and hotter, so the complainant told the court and Brown struck him in the face. Lawyers and complaints and warrants and all that sort of thing followed. Malcolm Monat appeared for the state and T. S. Nolan for the defense and trial took place before a jury. Brown denied the striking and said he merely shook his fist in the air when Jameson said he "could whip any Brown that ever lived."

Will J. Hahn, who was given a three months' jail sentence by Justice Phillips, of Evansville, for running a blind pig, was brought before Judge Phelps on an appeal. He was found guilty and sentenced to pay a $100 fine. Ellen Shafer's case was continued until October 8.

MRS. SAGE AND BLOOMERS.

Wife of the Great Financier Is in Favor of the Bifurcated Dress.

Mrs. Russell Sage has pronounced for bloomers, says the Boston Herald, not only for bicycle use, but for wear generally. She thinks that woman needs a street or walking dress which can be worn on every outdoor occasion, and a dress that must do away with long skirts and petticoats. "If," she says, "woman will follow the pursuits of man she must have a practical costume. She can not wait to grasp her skirts if she must catch hold of a particular railing to leave a street car. She can not get on a chair to wind the clock without danger from her skirts." She can not see how a woman should think of riding a bicycle without wearing bloomers. The conventional woman dress should only be kept for the opera, the dinner party, the club luncheon, and such other occasions, and should be for women what the clawhammer attire is for men. She thinks that the knell of the long skirts, which she characterizes as dangerous as well as inconvenient, has sounded, but she adds that "women can only afford to sacrifice the grace of the skirts at the altar of necessity." But why all this arguing, and why not adopt bloomers incontinently? The principal opposition with which they met has been from the comic papers and the newspaper paragrapher, and poor, persecuted woman has survived all the fun they poked at bangles, hoop skirts, at big hats and their hearse-like, tall ostrich plumes, and at all the other fashions that have, from time to time, been so dear to femininity. Let those who covet bloomers for everyday wear don them without more ado, and thus show the courage of their convictions. The chances are, however, that an overwhelming majority of the sex can not bring themselves to remain indifferent to the plates in the fashion periodicals and to the charm which a pretty, well-fitting, and tasteful gown exercises over every susceptible and admiring he thing.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

Our Great Colleges Were Not Such Vast Institutions as They Are Now.

Dartmouth College consisted of a wooden building 150 feet long, 50 feet wide and 36 feet high.

At Dartmouth English grammar and arithmetic were text-books in the sophomore year.

Princeton, the greatest Presbyterian college, was a huge stone edifice, its faculty consisting of a president, vice-president, one professor, two master of languages and seventy students.

Harvard University had four brick buildings; the faculty consisted of a president and six professors, and in its halls thronged 130 to 160 students.

Yale boasted of one brick building and a chapel "with a steeple 125 feet high." The faculty was a president, a professor of divinity and three tutors.

The greatest Episcopal college in the United States was William and Mary's. It was under royal and state patronage, and was, therefore, more substantially favored than most of our American schools. At this time, it is said in a curious old state report, the college was a building of three stories, "like a brick kiln," and had thirty gentlemen students.

The students lodged in dormitories, ate at the "commons" and were satisfied with what we would consider prison diet. Breakfast, a small can of coffee, a biscuit, about an ounce of butter. Dinner, one pound of meat, two potatoes and some vegetables. Supper, bread and milk. The only unlimited supply furnished was cider, which was passed in a cask from mouth to mouth. The days were spoken of as boil day, roast day, stew day, etc.

It is a truth in medicine that the smallest dose that performs a cure is the best. Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers are the smallest pills, will perform a cure, and are the best. C. D. Stevens.

If the Baby Is Cutting Teeth, Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP for children. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Jefferson County Fair. For the above occasion the Northwestern line will sell excursion tickets at reduced rates to Jefferson, Wis., and return. Tickets on sale from September 30 to October 4, inclusive, good for return passage to October 5, 1895. For tickets and full information, apply to agents O. & N. W. R'y.

A. G. Bartley of Magic, Pa., writes: "I feel it a duty of mine to inform you and the public that Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of a very bad case of eczema. It also cured my boy of a running sore on his leg." C. D. Stevens.

For Sale Cheap. My house, barn, and four full lots on Hickory street, just off Fourth avenue. Will make it a bargain to some one. Enquire at Gazette office. H. F. Bliss.

Nothing so distressing as a hacking cough. Nothing so foolish as to suffer from it. Nothing so dangerous if allowed to continue. One Minute Cough Cure gives immediate relief. C. D. Stevens.

Cotton States and International Exposition at Atlanta, Ga.

For the above event the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will sell excursion tickets from Sept 15 to Dec. 31, 1895, good for return until and including Jan. 7, 1896. The rate of round trip will be 75 per cent of double lowest first class fare.

He—Oh, something cheap that will look expensive.—Puck.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

PAINT CRACKS.—It

often costs more to prepare a house for repainting that has been painted in the first place with cheap ready-mixed paints, than it would to have painted it twice with strictly pure white lead, ground in pure linseed oil.

Strictly Pure

forms a permanent base for repainting and never has to be burned or scraped off on account of scaling or cracking. It is always smooth and clean. To be sure of getting strictly pure white lead, purchase any of the following brands:

"Southern," "Red Seal,"
"Collier," "Shipman."

FOR COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, a one-pound can to a 25-pound keg of Lead and mix your own paints. Saves time and annoyance in matching shades, and insures the best paint that it is possible to put on wood.

Send us a postal card and get our book on paints and color-card, free; it will probably save you a good many dollars.

FASHION ITEMS.

Large Ruches and Boas—Ostrich Feathers For Many Uses.

The pretty fichus now so fashionable are only worn over plain gowns—that is, over gowns having a skirt and bodice of the same material. Over a differing skirt and bodice the effect is patchy. The fichus look well over wool dresses, but appear to greatest advantage with silk costumes, which are much worn now. It is a popular fancy to make a collection of small, jeweled pins to fasten these fichus, which are often draped across the bosom in various ways.

A bow at the back of the neck continues to be the favorite way of finishing a high collar. Large ruches are reappearing with cool weather, and collarettes of feathers also. The ostrich, although an ungainly bird, is becoming decidedly fashionable. His plumage is employed to adorn hats, bonnets, collars, capes, evening bodices and even jackets, and there is talk of acclimatizing him in England and using the eggs as food.

Some of the winter jackets are very striking and look rather more suitable for evening wear than for daylight service. Cloth in blue, mastic, red, beige or gray is the material chosen, and the garment has a Henri II collar and fantastically cut revers trimmed with ostrich tips. The seams are covered with gold and black galloon, which is carried vertically to and upon the collar.

Black satin bloomers are now considered the thing to wear under the bicycling skirt, as they are smooth and do not cling to the inside of the skirt. The latter is frequently lined with silk, although a firm woolen goods really needs no lining and is made heavier thereby. Hard twisted covert suiting is the most serviceable material, and durability is a point of great importance in bicycle suits, as it is in riding habits. Leggings are made of the same material as the gown.

A sketch is given of a cape of black velvet. It is trimmed with applications of steel embroidery over red satin. Around the neck is a thick ruche of black lace fastened by black satin ribbons. The hat worn with this cape is of black felt, with a waved brim, and is trimmed with black ostrich plumes.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

BODICES AND CAPES.

Collars Should Be High and Stiff—Braiding and Embroidery.

All bodices not intended to be low necked should be finished with a high, straight collar, even when a draped or plaited collar is to be worn, as the straight collar holds the bodice in place around the neck and serves as a foundation to which the ornamental one may be pinned.

Whatever style of sleeve is employed, and it is sure to be full, it should be made over a fitted lining. All sleeves now worn are tight near the hand, which gives the arm a tapering effect. The lower part of the sleeve should be lined with bias silk, as that allows the hand to slip through more easily.

Now that braiding and embroidery are coming to the fore for adorning dresses there is room for the industry and ingenuity of fancy workers to be expended to some purpose. Revers, cuffs and skirt panels may be worked at leisure to enrich winter gowns, and such work done at home is inexpensive, while the effect is costly. Woolen braid wears better than does silk, which is apt to pay out and is usually worn over a cotton filling, which soon becomes evident.

Capes coming down to the hips are shown in the autumn display and are plain over the shoulders, falling in full folds below them. Cloth is the favorite material, lined with silk of a different tint. The decoration consists of heavy braid or stitched cloth straps, forming an ornamental pattern. Beige and mastic are the colors most employed unless the cape is made to match a tailor gown, as is often the case.

An illustration is given of a dress toilet of fine mohair of an aloe green shade. The bodice is plain. The blouse bodice is of green silk embroidered in a rich pattern with gold and opens over a square yoke of plain silk laid in plaits. A soft belt of plain green silk is fastened with four large gold buttons. The sleeves of green wool like the skirt are very tight below the elbow and terminate with a flap over the hand. The full upper portion of the sleeve has four tucks across the shoulder. The hat which accompanies this gown is of green felt trimmed with a double ruche of ivory ribbon broadened with roses and green foliage. A knot of the same ribbon is placed behind, with roses resting upon the hair.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

AUTUMN FASHIONS.

Sailor Hats—Navy Blue Serge and Mousse-line de Soie.

A modified sailor hat is now being worn by French holiday makers. It is of the regular sailor shape, with a medium crown and brim, but the edge of the latter turns up squarely all around about a half inch. A thick ruche of ribbon is placed around the crown, and on each side is a tall ribbon aigret. The ruche may be of lace or chiffon for delicate use.

Navy blue serge is much worn. It is largely combined with white, gold and red being also used in the form of cordings. Narrow braid and buttons, especially the latter, are liked for trimming. Mousseline de soie is used largely for millinery purposes and also for evening dresses, blouses, fichus, and, in fact, for all purposes where a delicate, sheer, fine fabric is required.

Among the favorite colors now prevailing are brown of all shades, yellow, gray, which is exceedingly fashionable in Paris, heliotrope blue and light green. Red is also worn—indeed it is too warm and satisfactory a color ever to go out of style entirely—and is largely employed for fancy waists.

White kid gloves, which up to a few years ago were considered permissible only for evening wear, are now to the front in broad daylight. They came forward about five years since and have kept a more or less prominent position up to now, although they are by no means desirable for street wear. They make the hand appear large, they soil with one wearing, they must be bought new continually, and they are expensive. Only in wash leather are they suitable for general use. The roughness of that material fits it for ordinary purposes, and its durability and washable nature excuse its whiteness. White wash leather gloves are quite proper with all light summer gowns as well as with winter ones with which they correspond, but white suede and kid gloves look almost as incongruous and vulgar in the street as do wooden heeled fancy shoes, but not quite, for these last mark a lower ebb of taste and refinement than do even rags.

A picture is given of a dinner bodice of pale green crepon, opening over an accordion plaited vest of rose silk gauze, trimmed with an application of gold embroidery on rose velvet. The elbow sleeve of accordion plaited rose gauze consists of one large puff and two small ones and one adorned with a choux of green crepon. The collar and belt are of the same material, with choux of rose gauze.

Weather.

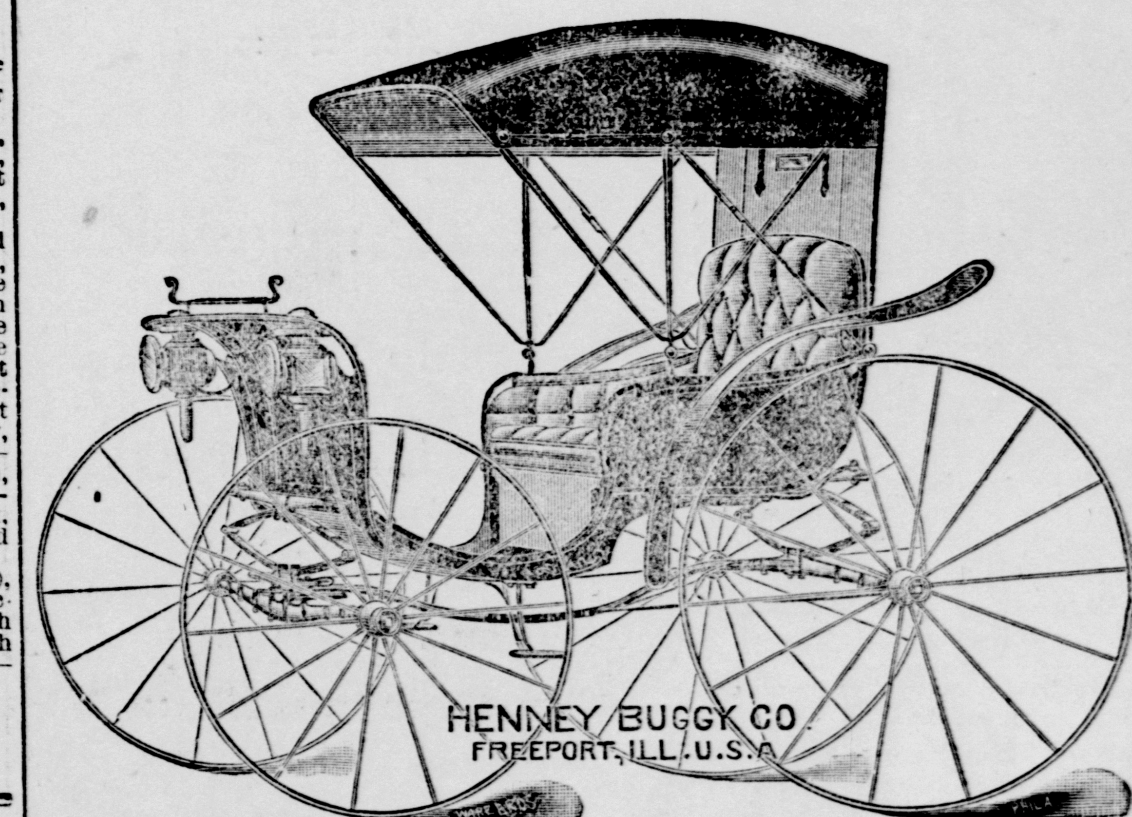

Probably you have said the same thing those past few days, and in thinking of Cloaks you no doubt have let your thoughts run in the direction of this store, where everything that's up to date in the garment line is to be seen first, and as we own every coat we show, we are a little better prepared to name prices than would be the case were the garments consigned. Every buyer thinks he is a little better posted than the other fellow, and as long as he rests easy in this belief he is probably satisfied; but we have reason to believe that in buying Cloaks we have an inside track, for if you don't know it yourself just ask your neighbor and she will probably tell you that when she wants to see Janesville's representative line of Cloaks she goes to Archie Reid's, and she will also tell you that she can always save money by so doing. There must be reasons for this, and we know what they are. Come in and we will let you into the secret.
